How should my 2XU training apparel fit?

Your 2XU garment should sit on your body with supreme comfort. Tights should fit securely without 'cutting in' while Singlets, Tees, Shorts and Tanks should feel light and free without being too baggy. Certain styles, particularly those with in-built bras, are designed to fit securely around the bust, then taper out down toward the hipline. If you're unsure, feel free to ask in store or call through to any 2XU Performance Centre.

Your 2XU apparel should not compromise your technique in any way. For optimal performance, be sure to select a size which offers you un-restricted movement when working out. With flatlock and low profile seams, chafe-free motion is assured. A little extra space between you and the garment will also promote breathability and ventilation.
