INSTALLATION

- Remove cap
- Position the old and new caps next to each other, lining them up so their positions match one another exactly. Transfer spark plug wires one-by-one onto the new cap, using the old cap as a guide and installing them in the same position in the new cap.
- Remove the old rotor and install the new rotor making sure it is aligned the same direction as the old one. Make sure the rotor is fully seated to allow the cap to seat correctly on the distributor.
- Place the cap on the distributor housing and rotate it until the alignment tab allows the cap to drop/lock into place.
- Double-check spark plug wires connections after snapping down the cap into place.
