Fat John 60: (Weight 5/8 oz., Size 60mm)

The SPRO Fat John was designed by BASS Elite Series Pro John Crews to be the best shallow running square bill style crankbait on the market. The SPRO Fat John comes with two premium Gamakatsu size #3 trebles, and it comes in 8 fish catching colors. The SPRO Fat John also has a soft tungsten weight transfer for extra long casting just like the other baits in the SPRO Little John family of lures. Try one today!

Little John 50: (Weight 1/2 oz., Size 50mm)

"We built the SPRO Little John 50 Crankbaits to run at depths of 3 to 5 feet. We used a computer chip board for the lip to create more feel and to be more durable. A silent weight transfer system using soft tungsten translates into incredibly long casts for a small crankbait, even in windy conditions. We used the world's sharpest trebles - Gamakatsu. I think the SPRO "Little John 50" crankbaits are the best shallow running crankbaits, period."

Little John MD 50: (Weight 1/2 oz., Size 50mm)

The John Crews Little John MD 50 Crankbait is designed to run deeper than the original Little John 50 Crankbait. This bait will run down to about 9ft on 10 lb monofilament line to get down to those fish hanging on ledges where predators like to feed. The SPRO Little John MD 50 comes in 18 fish catching colors that will help anyone catch more fish on a crankbait.

Bucktail Jigs

"Whether it's fresh water or salt water, nothing catches fish like a SPRO Bucktail."
- Roland Martin, Legendary Angler

Bucktail Jigs:

The Prime Bucktail Jig is not like any other jig on the market. The unique shape of the head and placement of the eyelet help bring this lure to life. With bulging eyes, holographic finish, and blazing color, it puts fish at your mercy. The uniqueness of this bait is that it doesn't fall or hang straight down like other bucktails. It glides through the water, almost swimming along. When jigged, its body stays almost parallel to the bottom maintaining a very natural appearance. Like all SPRO products, Prime Bucktail

Jigs are made with durable, super sharp Gamakatsu hooks. Once you fish it, you'll know why SPRO is the shape of things to come.

It's hard to fish the Prime Bucktail wrong. It can be jigged off the bottom for weakfish, fluke, or other saltwater fish. Cast it at schooling fish working it quickly back to the boat for cobia, stripers, snook, or dolphin. Swim it along in freshwater for big bass and walleyes, or troll it for reservoir stripers. It's hard to find somewhere that the Prime Bucktail won't work.

"I started out by designing a new Gamakatsu hook that has the hook eye recessed back into the head of the jig. This greatly opened up the gap (or bite) of the jig. As a result, I hook and land more fish. I put all my years of experience into the design of the head, weed guard and skirts colors along with my new sticky sharp, super strong Gamakatsu hook. There is no finer jig on the market than the SPRO K-Finesse, period!"

Twinex Kingfish Stinger Rig

The SPRO Twinex Kingfish Stinger Rig is the evolution of terminal tackle. Rigged with an extra strong Gamakatsu live bait hook, the Twinex is a 4X strong double stinger hook. The tiny Twinex arm of the hook slips easily into all live bait. The tiny, almost invisible barb holds snugly to the bait without killing it. Fish longer because your bait lives longer. Rigged on 40 to 70 pound premium wire, the SPRO Twinex Kingfish Rig is a must for all serious saltwater anglers. - Harry Crump
